WARREN'S COUGH BALSAM

Has been found, by experience, to be the Best Remedy for the various Diseases of the Lungs and Throat, such as

Diphtheria,

Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Croup, Influenza Pleurisy, Pneumonia or Inflammation of the Lungs, and Whooping Cough

IN these complaints this Medicine has NO SUPERIOR, and while thus efficacious, it is perfectly SAFE to administer to persons of all ages

At all times of the year this Balsam is found useful, especially in the Autumn, Winter and Spring, and many Colds and Coughs, which, if neglected might prove fatal, may be CURED at once by a few doses of this invaluable remedy

This Cough Balsam possesses the two-fold advantage of being at once valuable as curative and insensible as a preventive of all the diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Bronchia

In DIPTHERIA this Balsam has proved itself unexpectedly effective. When given at the first onset of the Pestilence, it checks it at once, and in many cases, it is believed by those who have used it, to have saved their lives.

In ASTHMA, however violent and distressing, this Balsam gives prompt relief

In BRONCHITIS and PNEUMONIA it relieves the irritation, lessening the Cough, and promotes a favorable expectoration.

In CROUP its powers are almost magical. This insidious disease, coming like a thief in the night, may be speedily and effectually arrested by a few timely doses of this Balsam.

In WHOOPING COUGH it moderates the paroxysms, prevents the disease from assuming its severest and dangerous form, and shortens its course.

Every family should keep it in the house, and thus avoid the dangerous delay occasioned by sending out for the medicine when needed for immediate use

The best recommendation for a good medicine is found in its use. In the following certificate, from one who has used it, does not give you confidence in it, try one bottle for yourself, and you will be convinced. It will cost you but twenty five cents, and may save you as many dollars in time and doctors' bills.

Letter from Col. Roberts.

FRIEND WARREN —Allow me to thank you for the bountiful supply of Cough Balsam received by me from you, through Lieut Boynton. Many a soldier in my command, as well as officer, has experienced the beneficial effects of the same. We all pronounce the article a good—so does our Brigade Surgeon, Dr Lyman, of Boston, to whom I presented a bottle.

British Ship of War Fired into by our Cruisers—From the War in Mexico—Our Troops at Suffolk Attacked—The Gun boats Drive the Rebels Back—Riot at Halifax

BUFFALO, 16th.

At a meeting of the managers of the Buffalo and State Line Railroad, and other prominent railroad men, held here to day, it was determined to build a railroad direct from Erie to Cleveland. The sum of $606,000 was subscribed

NEW YORK 15th

The Herald says—Our correspondent at Hamilton, Bermuda, informs us under date of the 6th of April, that the schooner Legate, which arrived there from Cuba on the 30th of March, reported that the British war ship Cygnet, when entering a port of Cuba, from a cruise undertaken from the same place, was fired on by two United States vessels—one on each side, at one and the same moment.

Captain Masters of the Legate, had heard that on the commander of the vessel demanding an explanation from the American officers, he was informed that they had mistaken his vessel for the Alabama, Florida, or some other rebel privateer. This temporary difficulty, if it ever really occurred, may have been exaggerated into the rumors just forwarded from Havana, concerning the arrest and parole of Admiral Wilkes

Last evening, Josephine Thompson, aged 19 years and Angelina Partilups, aged 18, while playing about a room in the fifth story of No 337 Broadway, where they were employed as artificial flower makers, accidentally fell through the hatchway to the ground floor, and were killed almost instantly.

Direct advices from the city of Mexico up to March 23d, received in Washington, report some progress of the French in their operations against Puebla. They have occupied two important hills 4 miles from Puebla, commanding the road to Vera Cruz and San Juan, 2 miles from Puebla, commanding the road to the city of Mexico

Their outposts extend to the river Atoyac—the bridge over which they have seized. General Comonfort had been reinforced by three brigades from the Capital. In a skirmish on March 22d, the French were compelled to retire. The Mexicans were still in excellent spirits, and another stirring proclamation had been issued by President Juarez

NEW YORK, 17th.

The Tribune's Suffolk letter of the 15th says, about 1 o'clock this morning the enemy attacked us on our left, coming up Edenton road. They were some five thousand strong. They were shelled from Fort Dix, and retired about five mile. At the same time a feint was made to cross the Nansemond, but our gunboats were sufficient to drive them back into the woods. Major Gen Peck is confident that he can easily repulse the enemy.

The Herald's letter of the 14th

Sergeant Hall, captured a few days since while coming down the Nansemond river, has returned He says the enemy have nine bridges constructed over, the Blackwater River. The enemy is sending large bodies of troops, night and day, by car loads, to the Southwest. All the way from Petersburg up to Richmond, every few miles, there are earthworks of all kinds on which guns have been mounted. The rebel soldiers however admit that these guns have been lately taken away

NEW YORK, 17th

The Times' Washington despatch says the list of Provost Marshals for all the States, except Connecticut, are said to have been made by Col Fry to-day, and presented to the Secretary of War

The Herald's Washington despatch says, nothing is known here in official circles in regard to the removed withdrawal of the Monitors from Charleston harbor and their employment on the Mississippi river. While such may be the case, there is reason to believe no orders have been sent to Admiral Dupont as yet for that purpose

During the last two months 15,000 soldiers have been taken down to the Army of the Potomac from the convalescent camps

NEW YORK, 17th

The Virginia Legislature has passed a tax bill, taking everybody and everything considerably more than double the rates of the United States tax under the Internal Revenue law.

The rebel Congress has passed a bill abolishing flogging altogether in the rebel army,—substituting the death penalty and imprisonment in the penitentiary.

NEW YORK, 17th.

Counterfeit photograph tens on the Bank of Woburn, Mass., were put into circulation last night.

HALIFAX, 17th.

The steamship Canada from Boston for Liverpool, arrived at four o'clock this morning and sailed at five.

Quite a serious collision between the troops and citizens, occurred last evening. About 300 soldiers broke from the barracks and rushed through the streets, assailing the citizens, breaking windows &c. Several were hurt on both sides—some seriously

A detachment of royal artillery soon drove the soldiers to the barracks.

We understand that a serious difficulty occurred last Saturday evening, among those who are organizing a political club in this city, under the lead of Copperheads. A motion was made in the club meeting by a Copperhead, requesting those who were not members to withdraw. It was opposed by a Union democrat, who expressed himself in favor of having the meeting open to all, and hot words were interchanged. After the adjournment, quite a number of members went to F. G. Cook's store, among them the person who had opposed Copperhead close communion. The subject was then renewed, and from words the parties came to blows, the result of which that one or two Copperheads were knocked down and considerable "worm-wood cordial" spilt. This is only the effect of loyal and disloyal elements in the same organization: they will clash.

Rockland Democrat.

A JUST TESTIMONIAL. The officers of the 4th Maine Regiment have sent to the editor of the Rockland Democrat the full subscription price for as many copies of his paper as there are officers—in token of their approbation of the manly course of the Democrat in adhering to its loyal position favoring the prosecution of the war, and opposing the "peace party" democratic organization.

The Piscataquis Union Convention—A Patriotic Letter from an Old Jacksonian Democrat.

A grand Union Convention was held at Dover and Foxcroft on the 31st of March, as heretofore noticed A large hall and a church were filled to overflowing Speeches were made by Hon. John H Rice, Mr. Lebroke, Mr Lewis Barker, Mr. Crosby of Dexter and others, and letters received from several gentlemen, among others the following from Hon. George P Sewall of Oldtown, the sentiments of which must thrill through the heart of every true and loyal democrat

Letter from George P. Sewall.

OLDTOWN, March 27th, 1863

Messrs A. G. Lebroke, John H. Rice, J W Cook, C. H. B Woodbury, Ephraim Flint.

GENTLEMEN Your invitation to be present at a meeting of the Union citizens of Piscataquis, on Tuesday next, contained in your note of the 24th inst, was received yesterday—I regret other engagements will prevent me from accepting it. I sympathize with you in the object of your meeting It is peculiarly proper, that at this dark hour of our national life, the friends of the Union everywhere, should meet and consult as to the most efficient support they can extend to the government, and how they may best honor and encourage the brave soldiers who are periling their lives in its defence

If there was ever a period in our history when the efforts of all who love their country were required to protect it against enemies in the field, and traitors at home, it is the present It has been said that when bad men combine for evil purposes, it becomes the duty of good men to associate and resist their action. That there is a combination among us, whose leaders are nightly plotting the overthrow of our government, and the separation of our country, is obvious to the most superficial observer of events Under the delusive pretence of peace, they are secretly perfecting their organizations and misleading many honest citizens, who do not comprehend their motives. To render their disguise more perfect, they have adopted the time honored name of Democrats But they have no right to it, either by succession or principle

The organization of the party was lost at Charleston in 1860—its principles perished a year later in the hands of the friends of these very men under the battlements of Fort Sumter The platform on which the last administration stood went South in the care of their late candidate for President, and is now in a rebel camp

If any organization survived the Charleston Convention, it was left in the keeping of the Douglas branch, and surely it cannot be claimed, that the Breckinridge candidates for electors, who lately instructed their followers at Guilford, are rightly in possession of it. The lamented Douglas denounced these traitors, and warned the country against the very men who are attempting to compass its destruction In his last hours he implored his friends to sustain and uphold the Union. Do these men who were lately prowling about your country utter any such sentiments?

Did any man at Guilford hear these self-made democrats in leaders denounce Breckinridge or the traitors who sustain him?

Did they apologize to the people of your county, for having asked their vote for such a man two years ago?

Can a man be a Democrat and countenance treason?

The truth is this rebellion, rushing like a flood over the country has engulphed old party platforms and principles. New issues may hereafter arise to divide the people, but while this war is pending—a war on our part of self-preservation—it is idle for any set of men to attempt to drag up the fragments of past organizations and construct platforms on which they may float into power. During the terrible conflict through which we are passing, there should be and there can be, but one loyal organization—the men who sustain the President of the United States.

If the Democratic party is ever again to be reanimated, it cannot be maintained by making it a peace party in time of war—such has not been its history, and never can be.

It is certainly somewhat singular that the present opposition to the government, is assuming the same character, as that which distinguished the opposition to the Republican party of 1812 The blue lights of that day, and the Copperheads of this, seem animated by the same spirit

Had they been successful in their effort to break down the administration, Maine, to-day would have a British Province. The same spirit has recently manifested itself in our own House of Representatives.

The leading opposition journal to the Republican administration in 1812 was the Old Centinel. In its leader of July 18th of that year, in discussing the course of action then deemed advisable, they take the precise ground now assumed by these modern quaker democrats.

The Union (they say) of the Northern and Southern States, is not essential to the safety, and is much opposed to the interest of both sections. A perfect separation would be for the happiness of all sections.

These men now mean separation when they talk about peace—they are willing to sacrifice the Union, to gratify a spirit of revenge against those who defeated them.

They know very well that peace cannot be obtained by negotiation, except we acknowledge the Southern Confederacy, and divide our territory. Davis has so declared, and the rebel Congress so resolved. They are fighting for separation and for the key of the continent,—We must grant it or negotiate with the sword I have failed to meet an opponent of the administration, who will openly declare he is in favor of maintaining the integrity of the Union, peaceably if he can, forcibly if he must. Let our people beware how they suffer themselves to be cheated by the cry of peace—it means submission. Let them take heed lest they follow these enemies of their country, into the pit that became the sepulchre of the Blue Lights of 1812

Those who now imitate the example of the men who at that day attempted to betray a Republican administration, will hardly escape the future indignation of the people—the retribution that embalmed one party in infamy, may yet overtake another. The motto of the old Jackson democracy with whom I have acted was "Our country—right or wrong—Our country however bounded"

If the principle it inculcates was sound in 1832, when treason against the United States, began to show itself at Charleston, it seems to me it is equally binding upon us to-day. I commend its application to the old patriotic democracy in this hour of their country's trial As members of other organizations, it true is many of us opposed the election of Mr Lincoln, but does that fact justify us in becoming an ally with those in open rebellion against his lawful authority? He is the constitutional chief magistrate of the United States, and I submit whether it is not the first duty of every citizen within their limits, by word and deed to sustain him cheerfully in his efforts to preserve the Union.

It was no fault—no act of his or his friends, that inaugurated this rebellion. He found it a fearful progress when he took possession of the government

It is to us who were identified with the democratic party a mortifying fact, that the very men we were then politically associated with, and whom we had defended and sustained for a life time, were found stealing the public property—robbing the government of its power to defend itself—seizing our forts and ships, occupying our arsenals, and leading their regiments against the Capitol of our Country—without cause—without reason or justification If there is an appropriate agent in the north to punish them, it is the democracy they have abandoned and betrayed and he who in this crisis hesitates—he who fails to denounce the traitors—who refuses to aid his government and follow its flag in reducing them to obedience, is at heart an accessory to their treason, and no better than a rebel in arms.

Why should not the administration be sustained? Has any loyal citizen been intentionally injured or disturbed? Is the liberty of a few men who are plotting against the government, and preparing to resist its authority so dear to us, that we should allow it to be crushed rather than they should be temporarily restrained?—Would one hesitate to seize or disable an incendiary discovered in the act of firing his dwelling? It seems to me we should accord to the government the same right in protecting the fabric of our fathers.

Can we justify opposition to the President because, to embarrass the rebels, he has emancipated their slaves?

If he had not the constitutional authority to issue such a proclamation, the act will be harmless and void, and when the rebellious States return to the Union, the courts of law will correct the error. The objectors to the proclamation will then be able to rejoice in the perpetuation of their beloved institution.

But if he had that authority, and has seen fit to exercise it, have we reason to complain? Are the people of Maine so enamoured with the institution of slavery, that they are willing to sacrifice the best government on earth, to preserve it?—Will they coldly turn their backs upon the President, because in maintaining the old flag he has found it necessary to invest some millions of human beings "with the rights of the free?" The proclamation of emancipation may or may not work its intended results in those States against which it was directed—its effects however are in the hand of an overruling Providence, and the deduction of the wisest man, as to the results that may follow, can be but an idle affirmation

One result, however of vast importance has already been obtained—it has effectually silenced the spirit of foreign intervention in our affairs, and we can henceforth settle the questions at issue between us without molestation from abroad

Those questions in the progress of events have become momentous.

They involve the perpetuity of free institutions on this continent—they draw after them the progress of civilization, and the enjoyment of civil liberty They demand from us on the other hand submission to the slave driver—an abandonment of the government to his control—an acquiescence in any policy he may see fit to adopt, or separation, dismemberment of the North and eternal war—to determine the issue, the slaveholder has appealed to the sword Let us rejoice that our people have not declined the arbitration The struggle may be fierce and long, but no man need doubt its successful termination Unless false to ourselves, we must ultimately triumph

I am gentlemen,

The Tax Law as to Clothing Manufacturers and Dealers

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
WASHINGTON, March, 1863 }

DECISION No 87 Liability of Tailors and other Manufacturers of Clothing Under Section 73 of the act of July 1st, 1862, any person who makes goods, wares, or merchandise, or articles known as manufactures, either for his own use or for sale, of the amount of $600 per annum, is regarded as a manufacturer; and whenever the total amount of manufactures of any such person exceeds the sum of $600 per annum, he is liable to taxation on the whole sum, unless exempted by law

In the first section of the act of March 3d, 1863, it is provided that "tailors, boot and shoe makers, milliners and dress makers, making clothing, or articles of dress for men's, women's or children's wear, to order, as custom work, and not for sale generally, shall, to the amount of one thousand dollars, be exempt from duty, and for any excess beyond the amount of one thousand dollars, shall pay a duty of one per centum ad valorem." Whenever any such person shall make and sell such goods to the amount of $600, he must be regarded as a manufacturer.

If therefore, a tailor should manufacture and sell $600 worth of clothing, made to order, as custom-work, in any one year, and should make an equal amount for sale generally, he would be liable to assessment on the last named amount, at the rate of three per centum ad valorem

Where one party furnishes the materials, or any part thereof, and another party is employed to manufacture, make, or finish the goods, wares, merchandise, or articles, the value of the materials will be included as a part of the thousand dollars aforesaid, except from taxation.

Batavia, the capital city of the island of Java, according to the description of a newspaper correspondent, is a brilliant specimen of oriental splendor. The houses, which are as white as snow, are placed one hundred feet back from the street, the intervening space being filled with trees, literally alive with birds, and every variety of plants and flowers. Every house has a piazza in front decorated with beautiful pictures, elegant lamps, and cages, &c., while rocking-chairs, lounges, &c, of the nicest description, furnish luxurious accommodations for the family who sit here mornings and evenings At night the city is one blaze of light from the lamps. The hotels have grounds of eight or ten acres in extent around them, covered with fine shade trees, with fountains, flower gardens, &c. Indeed, so numerous are the trees, the city almost resembles a forest. The rooms are very high and spacious, without carpets, and but few curtains. Meals are served up in about the same style as at first class hotels in the United States, although the habits of living are quite different. At daylight, coffee and tea are taken to the guest's room, and again at eight o'clock, with light refreshments. At twelve, breakfast is served, and at seven dinner. Coffee and tea are always ready, day and night. No business is done in the street, in the middle of the day, on account of the heat. The nights and mornings are cool and delightful, birds are singing all

OUTBREAK OF TREASON IN PENNSYLVANIA. In reference to the recent developments of treason in Pennsylvania, the Tribune says that the statements from Reading, Berks County, indicate the existence of an extensive and dangerous organization of the Knights of the Golden Circle, or by whatever other name the traitor conspiracy is chosen to be called, but it is only that the premature disclosure of their purposes by a Government detective, and the arrest of at least one of their leaders, may check their embodiment. Secrecy is the life of conspiracy, and it seems to be formidable the moment it becomes known. The mask torn off, the plot must be abandoned or at least postponed, and postponement in this case is equivalent to defeat, for the immediate object of the conspiracy seems to have been organized resistance to the enrollment act, and the machinery for the enforcement of the law is understood to be nearly ready to be put in operation.

Opposition to a draft, however, is not the only purpose of these traitors. The abduction of President Lincoln, by force, if necessary, and the establishment of a North-Western Confederacy, are announced as parts of the programme, and since the latter is known to be a pet project of rebel leaders in the South, and one main reliance in their present desperate casting about for support or relief, it is evidence enough of the complete sympathy and understanding between the opperhaus and their southern allies.

The development comes at an opportune moment. Under false pretenses, a treacherous peace party has carried many important elections, and growing bolder by repeated successes, finally found courage to impede in its run hostility, not the Administration merely, but to the war and to all attempts to restore the national authority throughout the country. The rotten fruit was partly uncovered in New Hampshire, and a disaster only not total, was the result of the impudence demonstrated by this Jesuitry, the democratic leaders in Connecticut nominated Colonel Seymour—a traitor from the start—and put him on a platform of which peace was the principal plank. They have been signally beaten, and close upon their defeat comes the final disclosure of the more practical and active part of the conspiracy, one purpose of which was to annul the executive authority of the States not on the path of the Government, and withdraw them from active co-operation in the war. Failing in that, and the party having lost its political influence and importance by defeat, armed resistance alone remained, and that part of the plot having been prematurely sprung (real leaders so far disclosed as to render its leisurely progress and future success impossible, there remains no chance to the copperheads but an immediate and general rising against the Government, and for that they are not prepared.

The disturbances in Indiana, which caused that State to be erected into a separate military district, were not unlike this latest outbreak in Pennsylvania, but there was no complete disclosure of the organization itself. The opposition to the arrest of deserters might appear to be limited and local. But this is a conspiracy which one of its leaders affirms to include a million of men, with wide spreading connections at the South as well as at the North. All assertions may or may not be true, but it is at least certain that there has been an intention to oppose the expected draft, and that an organization for that purpose, more or less complete has been sedulously extended in the Middle and Western States. It is better such an effort should be abandoned than that it should be crushed, as it surely would have been, if necessary, by military force.

The burning of Jacksonville, Florida, by some soldiers of the Eighth Maine Regiment (in defiance of their officers) was one of the most disgraceful outrages of the war, and meets with just condemnation throughout the North. It was wanton, unprovoked, and entirely unnecessary. The men who did the deed, if any of them can be identified, ought to be instantly shot—and the Government should certainly indemnify the innocent sufferers, so far as money can indemnify them for the loss of their homes.

ANOTHER PIRATE. The Liverpool Courier of the 6th inst. says that a good deal of excitement was caused at the Sailors' Home there by the announcement that a hundred able bodied seamen had signed articles to go to sea on board a large vessel, recently built at Orkneys, Scotland, and ready to sail from that port. The destination of the ship was said to be the Chincha isles, but no one doubted that she had been built for the Confederate government, and was intended as a pirate such as the Alabama is.

THE INDIANOLA. There is no doubt now about the fate of the Indianola. A letter to the Cincinnati Gazette from Young's Point, La., says:

"The wreck of the Indianola stands several feet out of water, and could have been raised by the proper means; but as this is impossible under the circumstances, Admiral Farragut assures his ship's crew by firing broadsides into the wreck each time he passes up or down, so as to prevent it being of any use to the rebels, provided they should ever raise it.

HEADQUARTERS 8TH REG ME VOLS,
Camp near Falmouth, Va., April 13.

Mr. Wheeler & Lynde:

Lieutenant Joseph W Lincoln, Co I, died in camp at this place on the 9th instant. He was from Sidney, Me., where he leaves a wife and child. His body has been embalmed, and will be forwarded to his friends there by express.

CHARLES D JOHNSON, Colonel.

ONE OF OUR DIFFICULTIES WITH ENGLAND. The New York Express says that one of our complications with the British authorities consists in the enlistment of unnaturalized British subjects into our army. No numerous applications have been made at the different consulates for their release, and aid to Lord Lyons, on the ground that our Government could not hold them as soldiers, they not having been as enrolled, and as such are entitled to the protection of the British Crown. Lord Lyons is said to have demanded their unconditional release, but Mr Seward contends that the mustering a which such soldiers voluntarily took bound them for the term of service for which they enlisted. Lord Lyons has referred the matter to Lord Palmerston.

A bill is before the Wisconsin Legislature providing that when the draft shall be ordered in that State, the Governor shall immediately tender the United States authorities enough greenbacks to exempt the whole number called. It is argued that the men are worth more to the State than the rags are, and that the act which exempts the rich of which such a fine price the administration paid for the niggers of the District of Columbia, is an insult to the whole people.—Belfast Journal.

The above is a specimen of the spirit of a democratic paper which claims to be loyal, and to support the Government while it opposes the administration. This is the way in which it sustains the laws passed by Congress for the necessary purposes of recruiting and armies. What does the Journal mean by the above. If anything? What would it have? Does the editor go against receiving any commutation for the service of a drafted man—or does he want the amount larger or smaller? What does he consider a fair ransom "for the life of a white man?" Who is his complaint? Or has he none in particular—only a shrewish determination to find fault with and sneer at everything done or [illegible] by the Government?

SERIAL CONSCRIPTS REFUSING TO FIGHT. A letter from the Army of Kentucky, dated at Danville, April 4th, to the Cincinnati Gazette, says—

"The affair at Dutton's Lill was a brilliant thing on our part, and a most disastrous defeat to the rebels. Scott, Carter and Pegram quarreled on the field, as if like the sodden Scott and Carter were sent to ——ville under arrest. Yesterday Pegram himself was ordered to Knoxville, also under arrest. Two rebel men a killed, wounded, deserted and missing in all not to be less hundred. The defeat was a rout, and the demoralization of prisoners. The Tennessee conscripts refused to fight. Pegram made a speech to them, in which he informed them that the Yankees were much exasperated, and had armed negroes to give them no quarter. They insist that or they had reached the last ditch. They were forced to remain with reluctance, and bit off the tail end of their cartridges, fired in the air, and exhibited so much disinclination for the fight that they were sent finally to the rear to aid in the crossing. A wounded conscript told me, that he never fired upon a Union man, and never was. He said he, unconscripted Tennesseans, Arkansans, or North Carolinians would run fire upon their Federal friends. The Louisiana rebels did the fighting."

A rebel paper says of prices in Mississippi: Flax, which formerly sold at five cents a paper, now readily commands two dollars in our market. A pack of common playing cards are readily disposed of at the common price of eight dollars per pack, and rum at fifty cents per drink. A medium sized pumpkin sells at forty cents."

BANGOR BREWERY,

No. 103 Broad Street.

THE undersigned has the pleasure of informing the citizens of Bangor and vicinity that he has, at a very large outlay, established a Brewery for the manufacture of the best brands of Ale. My head brewer, Mr. Williamson, has no superior in the country, in skill and experience, acquired by over fifteen years service in the largest Breweries of London, New York and Lemon.

The water used is from the famous Taylor spring and my malt and hops are of the best quality, thus ensuring the finest flavors and the finest printing. Believing the public will appreciate this home enterprise, I shall spare no pains to furnish an article which shall meet their and my approbation.

I shall also manufacture a desirable article of light Ale, specially for family use. My intention is to supply the trade, but for the present I shall accommodate the public in such quantities as may be desired.

My Ale is now on draft at the principal hotels and retail shops in this city.

WE would invite the attention of dealers to the above Tobacco made by us. It is warranted to be of SEVEN QUALITY than any in the market, and as good as the best cut from Virginia. Those disposed to encourage HOME MANUFACTURES, and all in want of Good Tobacco in place of the very inferior quality with which the market is flooded, can obtain it in any quantity for trial.

Time the True Test—Experience the Best Guide.

An Old Standard Remedy.

For Coughs, Colds, Consumption, and all Pulmonary Complaints, use the

which has maintained its high reputation for nearly FORTY YEARS, and is recommended by many of the most eminent physicians and gentlemen in the country among whom are Rev. Joseph Linch, Philadelphia; Rev. Dr. Lyman Beecher, New York; the late Prof. Leonard Woods, Andover Theological Seminary; B F Thompson, formerly Secretary of State, Vt.; Drs. Morrill, Perry, Abell, Parker, Berry, and many others by the Press, and by the largest and oldest dealers in drugs and medicines in the United States and Canada.

OPINIONS OF THE TRADE—"We know of no medicine which has deservedly sustained so high a reputation for so long a term of years, or which more rarely disappoints the reasonable expectations of those who use it."

(Signed by many of the oldest and most respectable druggists in the United States.)

Extracts from letters received from Physicians—"I with confidence recommend it as superior to any other preparation in the above complaints."—"It has a superiority over every kind of medicine used, and has been used for many complaints with wonderful success."—"I am satisfied it is a valuable medicine."—"It is a safe, convenient, and very efficacious medicine."—"To my knowledge, it has never disappointed the reasonable expectations of those who have used it."—"I confidently recommend its use in all its variety of the cough, as equal, if not superior, to any other medicine within my knowledge."—"Of all the principal remedies used for coughs, I am satisfied yours is the best, and hope it will be better known and more generally used."—"I have prescribed your balsam and regard it as the most valuable and effective remedy within my knowledge."

Extract of a letter just received from a gentleman, ordering some of the Balsam.

"Markham, Grand Lake Co., Wisconsin, Dec 12, 1862. Messrs Reed, Cutler & Co.—Gentlemen: For some twenty years I have used your Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam in my family, but more particularly for myself. When I first used it I was given up by physicians as past cure of Consumption. I established immediate help. I have always kept it on hand, and consider it for the lungs, the best medicine I ever used. I have recommended it in several cases and in nearly every case it has proved beneficial.—It does not keep after the doctors had pronounced them incurable. Respectfully yours,

H. H. RUSHLSON."

Price—Small size 50 cents; large, $1. Be careful to get the genuine, which is prepared only by REED, CUTLER & CO., Boston, and sold by dealers generally. Dec 30—2awdeow3m
